

Attention fellow Liberty Dollar supporters:

Good news: A week from tomorrow, August 22 is the last day to order Ron Paul Coppers and guarantee delivery. We just received the samples this morning... they look good... given it is a dollar item... certainly not proof... but certainly historic! If you definitely want to get some Ron Paul Copper Dollars, please order before next Wednesday.

Announcing... We will lock in the order for the Ron Paul Copper Dollar next week. And while we will order a few extra Coppers, I strongly encourage you to ORDER NOW, as the extra Copper will certainly not last long. Best to order now... as no additional Copper orders are planned and are actually very unlikely. Also, if you have not yet sent in your $1 certificates to exchange for Ron Paul Copper Dollars, these must be postmarked by midnight, August 22. Be sure to include your name, address and a nominal flat shipping fee of only $4 per redemption. Shipping fee can also be paid in $1 Certificates or US dollars. $20 base certificates only, please.

Delivery for the Ron Paul Copper is still planned for November.

Delivery for the Copper Liberty Dollar has been delayed... but it is currently in transit from California to Evansville. This whole process has taken a lot more time and money than we had wildly expected. But we will ship them ASAP upon delivery.

First Gold Ron Paul Dollars are shipping today. They are TERRIFIC! And as a special bonus, every one is numbered and hallmarked. They are really an incredible deal for the price.

Thanks again for all your support and efforts toward our common goals.
